Dear Prof. Vidotto,

The Acropolis Restoration Service addresses the problem of the Ailanthus Altissima presence in the archaeological site of the Acropolis, threatening both the monuments and the environment with its widely known harmful action. Given your high expertise in similar issues, we would be interested in your opinion on the measures you have taken. Therefore, following your communication with our colleagues Dr. E. Aggelakopoulou and Dr. E. Ksinopoulou, we would appreciate if you have the opportunity to visit Athens for an on-site observation of the problem and a discussion with our colleagues of how to manage it.

Yours sincerely

Deputy Director of Y.S.M.A.

Rosalia Christodouloupoulou
