

EIT Food Italy Workshop

Cavallerizza Reale | Via Giuseppe Verdi, 9, 10124 Torino | Italy

Date 06/11/2019

9:00 – 9:30	 Welcome and introduction Welcome to the University of Turin Stefano Geuna, Rector of the University of Turin EIT Food organization and the CLC South Begoña Pérez-Villarreal, Director of CLC south EIT Food Italy in figures Luca Cocolin, Master Contact for the University of Turin
	Session 1: Innovation	Table
9:30–10:45	 Technical presentations Main elements of EIT Food's Innovation projects Lorena Savani, Innovation manager CLC South Innovation in the food sector: the perspective of Barilla Giancarlo Riboldi, Barilla (TBC) Pitch presentations (5' each) The poultry food chain: tackling old problems with innovative approaches Luca Cocolin, Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Food Science, University of Turin Improving trust on fish chain: Rapid and portable monitoring tools for a better control of whitefish Antonio Del Casale, MICROBION FROM WASTE TO FARM: insect larvae as tool for welfare improvement in poultry Achille Schiavone, Department of Veterinary Science, University of Turin Innovation in food contact materials: activities and interests of Ecopack Chiara Pavan, Ecopack Discussion with presenters (30') Speakers of the session take their positions to discuss separately with workshop participants on questions or new projects and collaborations 	1 2 3 4 5 6

Session 2: Education Table Technical presentations Role and importance of Education projects for EIT Food Mario Roccaro, Education manager EIT Food HQ MOOCs: Future Learn requirements and standards Tina Lasala & Floriana Vindigni, Direzione Sistemi Informativi, Portale e E-Learning, University of Turin 1 Pitch presentations (5' each) Understanding Different Diets: Mediterranean, Baltic sea, and Okinawa Simona Bo, Department of Medical Science, University of Turin How to effectively change food habits: innovative techniques and personalized nutrition approaches Katiuscia Sacco & Alessandro Cicerale, Department of Psychology, University of Turin SPOC: Focus on farmers Riccardo Negrini, Italian Breeders' Association (AIA) Summer School on "Entrepreneurship for food product innovation" Remigio Berruto, Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Food Science, University of Turin 6 4	10:45–11:00	Coffee break
• Role and importance of Education projects for EIT Food Mario Roccaro, Education manager EIT Food HQ 1 • MOOCs: Future Learn requirements and standards Tina Lasala & Floriana Vindigni, Direzione Sistemi Informativi, Portale e E-Learning, University of Turin 2 Pitch presentations (5' each) 2 • Understanding Different Diets: Mediterranean, Baltic sea, and Okinawa Simona Bo, Department of Medical Science, University of Turin 3 • How to effectively change food habits: innovative techniques and personalized nutrition approaches Katiuscia Sacco & Alessandro Cicerale, Department of Psychology, University of Turin 4 • SPOC: Focus on farmers Riccardo Negrini, Italian Breeders' Association (AIA) 5 • Summer School on "Entrepreneurship for food product innovation" Remigio Berruto, Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Food Science, University of 5		Session 2: Education	Table
The EIT Food Professional Development Framework Paola De Bernardi, Department of Management, University of Turin	11:00 – 12:30	 Role and importance of Education projects for EIT Food Mario Roccaro, Education manager EIT Food HQ MOOCS: Future Learn requirements and standards Tina Lasala & Floriana Vindigni, Direzione Sistemi Informativi, Portale e E-Learning, University of Turin Pitch presentations (5' each) Understanding Different Diets: Mediterranean, Baltic sea, and Okinawa Simona Bo, Department of Medical Science, University of Turin How to effectively change food habits: innovative techniques and personalized nutrition approaches Katiuscia Sacco & Alessandro Cicerale, Department of Psychology, University of Turin SPOC: Focus on farmers Riccardo Negrini, Italian Breeders' Association (AIA) Summer School on "Entrepreneurship for food product innovation" Remigio Berruto, Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Food Science, University of Turin The EIT Food Professional Development Framework Paola De Bernardi, Department of Management, University of Turin. 	2 3 4 5 6
	12:30 – 13:30	Lunch
2:30 – 13:30 Lunch		Session 3: Communication	Table
	13:30–15:00	 Technical presentations On the importance of EIT Food's Communication projects Giovanni Colombo, Senior Public Affairs Manager, EIT Food HQ Public Engagement: methods and techniques for EIT food projects Andrea De Bortoli & Alessia Dino, Direzione Ricerca e Terza Missione, University of Turin 	1 2

	 Pitch presentations (5' each) 'SEE & EAT': Communicating the benefits of visual familiarity as a strategy for introducing healthy foods into children's diets Giuseppina Cerrato, Department of Chemistry, University of Turin Communication in the context of start-ups in the agro-food sector Andrea Cruciani, Agricolous The role of citizen participation forums to unlock consumer's trust Rebecca Pera, Department of Management, University of Turin Discussion with presenters (30') Speakers of the session take their positions to discuss separately with workshop participants on questions or new projects and collaborations 	3 4 5
	Session 4: RIS	Table
15:00–16:00	 Technical presentation The activities of the Italian EIT Food RIS hub Maria De Angelis, Fabio Minervini, University of Bari Pitch presentations (5' each) EIT Food RIS Solutions: entrepreneurship models for innovation Dario Peirone, Department of Law, University of Turin On the importance of the links between food & health for regional innovation Alberto Borraccino, Department of Public Health and Pediatrics, University of Turin Transdisciplinary competences for regional innovation Laura Bonato, Department of Foreign Languages, Literatures and Modern Cultures, University of Turin Discussion with presenters (30') Speakers of the session take their positions to discuss separately with workshop participants on questions or new projects and collaborations 	1 2 3 4
16:00–16:30	Final words and goodbye coffee	